

Courtney B. Whitten

Lawyer

Paralegal:

Cheryl Krengel

Courtney Whitten joined Winston & Cashatt, Lawyers in 2022 and focuses her practice on civil litigation, with an emphasis on land use and real property.

Prior to joining Winston & Cashatt, she worked as both a prosecutor and public defender, including misdemeanors, juvenile cases, and felonies, where she gained a wealth of experience in the courtroom.

Ms. Whitten's quality of work and dedication to public service have been recognized through awards and scholarships, including the Washington Young Lawyers Committee Public Service and Leadership Award for 2020.

Having grown up in Spokane, Ms. Whitten attended the University of Washington prior to returning home for law school. In addition to graduating magna cum laude from Gonzaga University School of Law, she interned at local law firms where she began her work in civil litigation. She was admitted into practice in Washington in 2017 and Idaho in 2019. In her spare time, Ms. Whitten spends time with her family, which includes two long-haired dachshunds, and helps with her family's cattle ranch in Cheney, Washington.
